officer. In speaking of the attention called through the public press to the duplication of officers' pay accounts General Rochester states that it is but fustlee to the officers of the Army to say that the records of his office show that the instances are rare where an officer has been

show that the instances are rare where an officer has been guilty of this offence.

The appropriation for the mileage of officers for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1882, was $220,000. Of that amount, less than $1,000 remains unexpended. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1883, $1890,900 was appropriated. Of this amount it is estimated that full returns will show that not more than $190,000 was expended. It is recommended that so much of the not of July 24, 1876, as forridds the payment of mileage over lund-grant roads be repeated. The provision applies only to officers of the Arary, while civil and naval affects are not subject to such restriction. These roads form only a part of the through lines of travel, and an officer is obliged to submit to the local rates for part of his journey, and obtain transportation orders from the Quartermaster's Department for the other part. This discrimination against Army officers, it is held, was not contemplated or intended by the passage of the not referred to. The number of deposits made by enlisted men during the last fiscal year was 7,902, amounting to $407,545. This is a decrease in the amount deposited. The act, allowing interest on the minimum deposite, $51,070,545, the productive of good results. At the close of the last fiscal year there was $1,046,468 to the credit of this account, which amount has since been increased to $1,030,435.

Attention is invited to the pressing needs of legislation.

Attention is invited to the pressing needs of legislation on the subject of paymasters' bonds, and it is suggested that legislation similar to that which has been enacted to remody this evil in the matter of bonds of collecters of internal revenue and of postmasters be extended to pay-

THE PROGRESS OF DAKOTA. WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 .- In his report to the Secretary of the Interior upon the condition of affairs in Dakota, Governor N. G. Ordway estimates the increase in population during the last year at 100,000, while the assessable property has increased in a still greater pro portion. Agricultural pursuits and stock-raising have prospered. The Governor believes that the Black Hills country will soon be exceedingly productive, and will be reached by railroads if the treaty now negotiating with the Indians is consummated. The Governor criticises in severe terms the bill introduced at the last session of the Legislature providing for the creation of s tory, and explains his reasons for allowing it to fail to become a law. He says the failure of the promoters of this scheme to secure the passage of the bill has resulted in an indecent the passage of the bill has resulted in an indecent factional strife against the Executive. The Governor assais the "Constitutional Convention" in strong terms, asserting that its object was to bring on a collision and ultimately overthrow the Federal authority without Congressional sanction. At the same time he does not wish to be understood as opposing the division of the Territory, if such should be the honest sentiment of the people of the Territory. He recommends that Congress provide for holding a legitimate Constitutional Convention to prepare one or two constitutions, or else pass an enabling act to be submitted to the people for ratification.

A BUSY TREASURY BUREAU.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 .- The annual report of R. M. Reynolds, First Auditor of the Treasury, shows that during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1883, there were Garing the used year chair and adjusted, involving $2,189,460,496. "During the last four years," the report says,
"the official work required has increased over the typer cnd. This increase has created the necessity of requiring more work of the clerical force each year than formerly, and it is feared that the rapid and hurried examination of accounts presented may result in grave errors in audit and certificates issued from this effice in settlement of claims, etc., pressed for final adjudication." The auditor recommends an increase of 18 per cent in the clerical form.

NAVAL INTELLIGENCE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 .- The Secretary of the Navy, acting upon the report of the Court of Inquiry into the circumstances of the destruction of the brig Tallyho by the United States steamer Pinta, has detached from the latter vessel Ensign Guy W. Brown and Lieutenant Urish Sebree, commanding the vessel. They will proba-bly be tried by court martial, the former for the negligence which cansed the collision, and the latter for not follow-ing the sinking brig and saving her crew. It appeared from the report of inquiry that the brig sank in about twenty minutes, and that the captain, his wife and the crew were exposed in open boats off Nantucket for about fourteen hours before their rescue by a passing vessel.

Commander J. C. Watson has been ordered as equip-ment officer at the Navy Yard, New-York; Lieutenant ment officer at the Navy Yard, New-York; Lieutenaut Charles P. Perkins to the achool-ship St. Marys; Assistant Engineer C. M. Perkins to the Vandalis.

Hawkins, 10th Infantry, has been ordered to repair to Fort Wayne, Sien, and report by letter to the Commanding General, Department of the East, for orders.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Washington, Friday, Nov. 2, 1883.
The Question of Another Bond Call.,—Upon being asked to-day when he would issue another call for bonds Secretary Folger said that he had not yet considered the matter. It is likely, however, that a call will be made within the next ten days.

THREE COUNTERPEITERS ARRESTED .- The arrest is reported in Indiana of Joseph A. Perkins for counterfeiting. He formerly operated with the gang of counterfeiters arrested yesterday. At Denver, Col., William J. Schroeder and Alexander V. Fox have been arrested for passing counterfeit $20 notes on the Bank of Commerce of New-York.

THE REDEMPTION OF THREE PER CENT BONDS .- On October 20 Secretary Folger received from a New-York bank a communication stating that a large amount of three per cent bonds embraced in the 122d and 123d calls were accumulating there, and asting if the Department would redeem $1,000,000 of said bonds at par and interest to the date of presentation. The Secretary replied: "I have to say that you may present any of the bonds included in those calls for payment prior to their maturity, and they will be redeemed and interest allowed thereon up to the date of their presentation."

TOPICS AT THE CABINET "EFTING .- The Cabinet meeting to-day was attended by all the members except Sec-retary Frelinghaysen. One of the questions considered was appointment of a Surgeon-General of the Army. No conclusion was reached. It is now pretty well under-stood that the appointment lies between Medical Pur-veyor Baxter, Surgeon Robert Murray, Surgeon Charles Sutherland and Surgeon J. S. Billings. The case of S. R. Crumbaugh, Collector of Internal Revenue for the Second District of Kentucky, is also understood to have been under discussion. The impression is general that a change will be made in this office. ing to-day was attended by all the members except Sec

THE HENNEPIN CANAL SCHEME.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 .- Two important conferences relative to the proposed Hemopin Canal were held here yesterday and were largely attended. One was the session of the Elinots and Mississippi River and Canal Improvement Commission. It began with closed doors, and was devoted to consider It began with social door, and a detection in g the advisability of increasing the membership from seventeen to fifty-one, thus enlarging the representation of New-York, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesona; and of abbreviating the titles of the commission. ternoon there was a general meeting of those interested in the canal scheme.

At the afternoon session to-day thirty-two new members were named, besides the seventeen former ones, and two more will be added this week. It was resolved to change the name to the Michigan and Mississippi Canal Commission. J. C. bore, of Chicago, was chosen president, and L. H. Holman, of New-York, one of the vice-presidents, and Mayor Edson, of New-York, one of the new members. A largely attended meeting of persons interested in the project was held, at which addresses were made setting forth the importance of the Hennepin Canal to agriculture and commerce; and resolutions were adopted declaring it to be the duty of the General Government to pash on the work.

NATIONAL GUARD NOTES.

The several companies of the 9th Regiment are undergoing full dress inspection this week. The non-commissioned officers and men of the 11th Regiment are caplaining that the relief fund is being misapplied by the trustees; that it is denied to indigent and deserving persons, while recently $500 has been voted as a present or loan to an officer to commensorate some anniversary, and that any protest made by officers is met by a request for their reeignation.

ZUKERTORT'S SIMULTANEOUS GAMES.

The chess champion, I. H. Zukertort, of London, played a number of simultaneous gauses at the Man-hattan Chess Club Rooms, last night. There were two long rows of tables, twenty-three in all, at which were seated his antagonists, and Dr. Zukertort was in the in-side track, walking from table to table, making his moves slowly or rapidly, as the positions were easy or difficult.

At 11:30 p. m. Zukertort had wan twelve games, lost one games, and drawn another. games, lost one gates, and drawn another. The victorious player was Henry Hill, and Gustave Hall scored the drawn game. The contestants were Gustave Eimonson, Charles Issaeson, J. H. Stone, A. W. District and "indorsed" by the Chizons' Organization. The Democrats are amking a hopeless contest with F. A. Ridabatek (Tammany) as the union candidate. Addrugan Finck will be re-elected by the Republicans in the VIIIth District. The Democrats have united on Charles Dexheimer.

The Republicans will undoubtedly elect W. H. Miller, a well-known merchant, who has been nominated in the IXth District. John Cavanagh, a Uquor dealer of unsavory reputation, is the candidate of the County Demoe-racy; and James Roon, another liquer dealer, is Tam-many's cardidate.

miny's candidate.

Ex-Aiderman Strack is the candidate of the County Demovemey in the Xth District, but notwithstanding his previous victories there, Thomas Rothman, the Republican candidate, is likely to win. Tammany has nondusced George H. Heinrich and Irving Hall Christopher Van Ness. There are three Independent candidates in the field—Charles L. Miller, W. H. Kennedy and John Donohue.

Nees. There are three independent and John Donofield—Charles L. Miller, W. H. Kennedy and John Donofield tracord in the present Board, has been renominated by the Republicans in the XIX District. The Democrats have united on William Bennett, who keeps a low "dive" on Sixth-ave, and who was arrested only a short time ago for complicity with "Shang" Drapes, the burglar, and Michael Cleary in swindling Thomas Hughes, an Arisona miner, out of a large sum of money on the pretence of using it as a stake in a prize fight.

Daniel Quinn, a master mechanic, is the Republican candidate in the XIIth District, and will probably be elected. The County Democracy Organization has renominated Alderman Robert E. De Lacoy, a liquor dealer. Tammany's candidate is Maurice F. Holahan, now a clerk in the State Senste.

James Pearson, a merchant, has been nominated by the Republicans in the XIIth District. He is an oid soldler and a man of unexceptionable record. James A. Cowle, who was nominated by a few Republicans in opposition to Pearson, has withdrawn from the contest. Alderann
A. B. Smith has been recomminated by Tammany Hall.

B. B. Merriffi is the candidate of the County Democracy.
In the XIVth District the Republicans have nominated Nicholas Guidenkirek, and there is a fair prospect of his election. The other candidates are: Arthur J. McQuade, a junk dealer, County Democracy; Henry Bischoff, a banker, Tammany; John C. Brederick, a Byery stable keeper, Irving Hall; and John Kennedy, Independent Democrat.

Democrate. It's no Hall' and John Kennedy, Independent Democrate Republican candidate in the XVth District, Anthony Miller, a real estate dealer, will probably be elected. Opposed to him are Christopher Bathe, o' the County Democracy, and Michael F. McLaughlin, of Tammany Hall.

There is no Republican candidate as yet in the field in the XVth District. Allerman Edward Duffy, a liquor dealer, has been renominated by the County Democracy; Charles Dempsey is the Tammany candidate and Edward T. Hogan the nominee of the Independent Democrate.

Favand F. Hogan the nominee of the independent De-mocrists.

Louis Wendel, a hotel-keeper, who has been nominated by the Republicans of the XVIIIh District, will probably earry the district. Alderman Rinckhoft, a liquor dealer, has been re-nominated by Fammany. John Quinn, an-other liquor dealer, is the chaice of the County Democ-racy and Irving Hall. Patrick McLaughlin is an Inde-pendent candidate.

In the XVIIIth William F. Brockway, a low-ver, has been nominated by the Reguliegas.

In the XVIIII William F. Brockway, a lewyer, has been nominated by the Republicans.
Robert Hall, a dock master, is supported by Habert O.
Thompson and James O'Brien. Ex-Coroner Richard Croker is the Tammany candidate. Hugh F. Farrell, the owner of three or four liquor-shops, and J. T. Kenny are Independent mandidates.
Joseph R. Wigger, a well-known undertaker, is the Republican candidate in the XIXth District. Joseph J.
McAvoy, a liquor dealer, is the candidate of the County Democracy. Tammany has renominated Hugh J. Grant, a real estate dealer.
Robert Betly, a well-known dry goods merchant, who is in all respects fited to make a good Alderman, is the Republican candidate in the XXth District. The County Democracy has nominated Thomas Carroll, an extensive liquor-dealer and a well-known trading politician. Frandidate. James O'Brien has a candidate in William Low and Irving Hall one in W. H. Hebbard.
Henry L. Sayles, a war veterian and a meat merchant, is the regular Republican candidate in the XXIst District. J. R. Andrews, a banker, is an Independent Republican candidate. There are two Democracy, and David De Venney, Tammany.
The Republicans have not yet nominated a candidate in es L. Wells, who has served so acceptably in the present Board, will undoubtedly be re-elected by the Re-utilicans and Independents in the XXIVth District, acob K. Wikins has been nominated by the County De-nocracy. He resigned from the police force yeaterday. S. A. Puligraff is the Tamusany candidate. George chouled is running as a Probibilionist.

POLICEMEN AND THE CANDIDATES. THE QUESTION OF SALARIES-VOTES TO BE EX-

CHANGED FOR PROMISES. Policemen of the second and third grades eld's meeting in the Germania Assembly Rooms, at venth-ave. and Twenty-sixth-st., yesterday afternoon to consult about the legislative candidates who are most all its to use their influence at Albany to increase police claries. John Carey, the chairman of the meeting, had addressed letters to about thirty of the candidates re-questing their views on the subject of police salaries. ort, in case of their election, to secure such logislative enactments as would equalize the salaries of patrolmen by giving to each $1,200 per year. Among the police-men at the meeting were many who received only $800, while the remainder get $900 per year. Nearly every precise in the city was represented by delegates.

Letters from nine candidates were read. J. J. O'Donohue, the chairman of the convention which nominated J. 11. Robb, sent a cautious note stating that Mr. Robb was " in sympathy with the movement." Ethan Allen wrote: "I cannot say that I won't favor an increase of salary of F. A. Dugro wrote: "It affords me pleasure to my that if equalization of the salaries of policemen. I believe a policeman of our city carns fully $1,200 per year." In a brief note sent by John W Browning appeared this sentence: "Of coarse I shall vote to restore the salaries, as I shways have in the past." J. J. Shvin made the following promise: "I will, if elected, introduce a bill to equalize the pay of the police force." Edward McCue wrote: "Should I be successful, let me assure you that any help toward the movement on the part of those men whom you are interested in, and for whom you have written no, that I can give, will be cheerfully a corried. "Georga W. Funkitt pledged himself as follows: "I will endeavor to have the bill increasing the salaries of policemen passed, and will protect the pension fund." Smaller expressions were made by Thomas Maher, Frederick S dibbs and John C. Brogan.

There was a division of sentiment among the assembled policemen regarding the value of the promises made. One struct $800 mm thought that a committee ought to be appointed to secure from the candidates "more binding pickages," but the opinion provailed that the letters could be used at Albany to keep the writers up to the mark if they showed a disposition to back out. The officers reserved to the promise and sharp to the mark if they showed a disposition to back out. The officers reserved to the opinion at Albany. policeman of our city earns fully $1,200

EFFORTS TO DETECT COLONIZATION.

THE QUESTION OF PATRICK SULLIVAN'S LODGING-HOUSE.

Captain Petty, of the Sixth Police Precinct, in conversation with a Thinune reporter yesterday, said so much at stake in electing Aldermen tas the departments it controls will not be disturbed next year), yet if it can oust Commissioner Thompson it will break mp the County Democracy. The great contest, therefore, is over the Board of Aldermen so far as the Democratic gration are Aldermen so far as the Democratic grations are allered to discover any colonization of voters. He explained the great difficulty that attended such an invostigation by saying that the pollecmen had no power to discover the Board of Aldermen so far as the Democratic grations are allered to discover any colonization of voters. He explained the great difficulty that attended such an invostigation by saying that the pollecmen had no power to discover any colonization of voters. He explained the great difficulty that attended such an invostigation by saying that the pollecmen had no power to discover any colonization of voters. He explained the great difficulty that attended such an invostigation by saying that the pollecmen had no power to arrest a person for illegal registration, unless there was using every means in his power to discover any colonization of voters. He explained the great difficulty that attended such an invosto obtain. Six officers in his precinct are devoting all their time to the verification of the registration list, and so far have found only a few lodging-houses where there are suspicious voters registered. Regarding the lodging-house at No. 107 Worth-at. Capitain Petty said that he had no doubt that the building should be closed, whether or not colorization existed there, as the rooms were small and flishy, and wholly unit for lodgers.

"It's political persecution," said Patrick P. Sullivan, the proprietor of the lodging-house. "How do I account for it?" he condinated; "why, easily enough. I am opposed to Tammany Hall, and Alderman Kirk is doing this just because I will not support him. I am a friend of Thomas P. Walsh, the candidate opposed to Mr. Kirk. I am a Democrat, but am opposed to Tammany Hall, and that's the secret of this persecution. Of course, I have no license to keep a ledging-house, but I have been here eighteen morths and nothing has been said until I refused to support Kirk. My house is one of the cleanest in New-York. The landlord persecution in Ireland is not so bad as that I am suffering now, but I will win."

District Attorney McKeon said that there had been only a few complaints of illegal registrations made from the sourth, Sixth, Eighth and Tenth Wards. No arrests had made. The number of complaints was much samaler in former years. At the Flest, Fourth, Eighth, Fourare suspicious voters registered. Regarding the made. The number of complaints was much smaller in former years. At the First, Fourth, Elgith, Fourth, it fricenth, and Twenty-seventh Precent stations, the reporter was informed that the officers who were verifying the registration that had not completed their labors and no arrests had been made.

THE WILLIAMSBURG NEWSDEALERS.

The Williamsburg Newsdealers' Protective Union held a meeting last night at Tuttle's Hall, Grand-st. Mr. S. W. Murphy in the chair. There was a full attendance of members. The union completed its organization by electing the following efficers to serve for one year: President, George Bell; vice-president, Isaac Hendrickson; recording scoretary, Joseph A. Brohel; financial secretary, Ernest H. Transplor; treasurer Charles Gilder also in the field.

Luther Morey, never before a candidate for office, is the sleeve; sergeant-at-arms, David Mudge. Delegates to the Central Committee, W. H. Kuykendall and S. W. Murphy, Twenty new members were added to the rell of membership. It was man Henry W. Jachne has been renominated by the County Democracy. Thomas Hogan, a liquor-sciler, is Tammany's choice. The contest is between Morey and Hogan.

John Sterling, formerly a clerk in the Post Office, the Bepublican nominee in the VIII District, has a fair chance of success. Patrick Farley (County Democracy) and William Geoghegan (Tammany) are both liquor-scilers.

Alderman Charles B. MR. HUTCHINGS STILL ON THE STAND, MORE TESTIMONY IN REGARD TO REPAIRS AND

RESTORATIONS Mr. Choate was missed from the array of counsel when the Feuardent-Di Cesnola case was resumed yesterday morning before Judge Shipman in the United States Circuit Court. W. C. Prime occupied a chair facing the witness stand, with the jury to his right hand. Albert Stickney, of counsel for the defence, sat on the opposite side of the table, with General di Cesnola and Allen W.

Evarts somewhat in the background. Mr. Feuardent, his attorneys, Messrs. Oudin and Oakley, and his counsel, Francis N. Bangs, were gathered about the long table in front of the clerk's desk. Numbers of prominent gentle-men came and went during the day, and at one time the portion of the room within the railing was so filled that many were compelled to stand. Among the trustees of the Museum present were Robert Hoe, jr., and Mr. Andrews. The jury followed the cross-examination of Mr. Stickney with marked at-tention, and examined the various examits and illustrations put in evidence with eager curiosity. Foreman Davis, who is an old gentleman with white hair, asked the witness a number of questions. Mr. Stickney re sumed his cross-examination of Henry G. Hutchings. The

witness said:

The colossel head and the statue which I have said were exposed to the action of rain water dropping from the glass roof in the conservatory of the Fouriecath-4t-building were both considered by me valuable objects. I did not especially call the attention of any of the trustees to the damage done. I spoke, however, of the glass roof needing repair. When I was here in May last, I went to the photographer who had been employed to take photographs of the Museum objects, and requested him to give me the negative of a photograph representing one of the rooms of the Fourteenth-st, building, which contained at the time it was photographed, among other statues, that of the priest, No. 22. I could not find the negative in question. I wanted it for Mr. Fourient.

The deterfee produced an album or scrap-book filled with proofs of all the negatives taken by the photographer referred to. Mr. Hutchings said that this book was kept by dimself when he was at the Museum and the proofs were easted in as soon as the negatives were approved by Mr Hoe, who was chairman of the Exhibition Committee The larger portion of the numbers in the book, including those which marked the pages and most of the memo-randums, Mr. Hutchings said, were in his handwriting He had seen what Mr. Feuardent alleged to be a page torn from the album. The plaintiff's attorneys were here called upon to produce the page alladed to, and a much mutilated sheet of paper was handed up, on which were pasted two proofs or photographs of Museum'statues. Th

witness said:

I have heard the charge that General di Cesnois tore a page from the album, had mutilated it, and that it had been found in the waste basket of General di Cesnois's office by the watchman Henchel. This story was told to me by Mr. Fenardent. I have never seen a copy of an affidavit to the facts made by Dixon Alley, and never knew of the existence of such a paper.

The plaintiffs were called upon to hand out this affidatible by the watch of the content o vit, but it was not forthcoming. Mr. Stickney argued that the evidence was material, because the page, they were prepared to prove, was not destroyed by General di Ces to show the disposition and intent of the plaintiff in the inception and progress of the controversy. During further testimony and discussion at this point it appeared that the page missing was No. 105, and the fact was noted in the book. No. 121 was also gone, and an indorsement was entered to the effect that the numbering of it had been omitted probably by mistake. Proceeding to speak again of the repairs and alleged fraudulent restorations made by Mr. Gehler in the basement of the Fourteenth-street building Mr. Hutchings used the expression, "By General di Cesnola's instructions," a number of times, as he had also done in previous portions of his testimony. Mr. Stickney took him up on this point and asked him if he had not already testified that General di Cesnola had no official connection with the Museum at the time Mr. Gehier's work was going on.

Museum at the time Mr. Gehler's work was going on. He replied yes. He then continued:

I remember that a wase which Mr. Prime wanted for exhibition at the Museum was broken while in the Museum's custody. It was a very valuable vase. I broke it while it was being photographed. I do not remember that I had Mr. Prime's permi-sion that it should be so photographed. I had the vase repaired. I will not swear that I said anything to Mr. Prime about the breakage until the repair had been accomplished. Many of the Cypriote statues were covered with incrustations of earth, owing presumably to the fact that they had been buried in the ground for centuries. This crust clong to the surface, in some cases very firmly. Some searth might be removed with the hand. I will not say that I know a bath to be necessary for its proper removal. I know the stone is soft. It might be injured by the use of a wooden point. An indention might be made with a finger nail, if it was a pretty good one.

Mr. Hutchings became mildly excited when the much discussed statuette No. 157, generally described as of Venus, was shown in court. It is a female figure about ten inches high, carved from Cy-priote calcareous stone. The dress is rather abundant on the left side and falls in a heavy fold, which the the hip, the likeness of a mirror, in bas relief, rises about one-sixteenth of an inch from the surrounding surface.

The witness—I do not admit it to be a mirror.
Mr. Stickney—Wen't you please answer my questions, and allow Mr. Bangs to argue the case I The statuette was then shown to the jury and the witess described the changes he believed he saw in its appearance as he did on the previous day. The witness continued: I left the Museum because it was decided by the Spe Committee that my services were no longer required. There were no reasons given and I never knew why I was discharged. I left some time after General di Cosnols became director of the Museum, but I had no reason to suppose that he had anything to do with my leaving. I was intimate with Mr. Fenardent when I was employed by the Museum of Art and occasionally went to his house. I have met Alley, Hinckel, Savage, Gedler and other discharged employes of the Museum since my own discharge, and conversed with them about this case.

In beginning the redirect examination Mr. Oudin, the plaintiff's attorney, handed to the witness a second statuette, which bore some general resemblance to No. 157, but it was about twice as large, and no mirror appeared carved on the side. Objection was made to its ad ecause it was not a Museum statuette, and had no relevancy to the case. Mr. Bangs contended that it was simply introduced as an illustration, precisely as a photograph might be introduced. Judge Shipman ruled that it might be admitted as an illustration, but not as a copy; but after a few questions Mr. Stickney again interposed, claiming that the object was mother Cypriote statuette, and that the plaintiffs, it was evident, desired to draw conclusions from its condition, regarding what should be, the condition of No. 187, with reference to its surface and the mirror. Mr. Bangs disclaiming any such intention, the redirect examination proceeded. Mr. Hutchings said :

proceeded. Mr. Hutchings said:

When I have used the word repairs, I meant to include restorations and not to refer solely to the union of fragments which had been previously united. The story which I was told regarding the torn leaf was that Goneral il Cosnola procured the album from Dixon Alley, in whose possession it was; that subsequently the watchman of the Museum, Henchel, found the fragments of it on the floor of the General's office and in the waste basket. He packed them up and put them in his pocket. Mr. Alley discovered that the page was missing and spoke to the watchman, who professed ignorance of the matter, although he had the pieces then in his pocket. The watchman later on went to Mr. Fenardent with the page, which he had put properly together in the meantime, and Mr. Fenardent went up to Mr. Lawrence—what Mr. Lawrence I do not know. That same night Mr. Fenardent went up to the watchman's house in upper Third-ave., and secured his affidavit and returned to the house of Mr. Lawrence, in Park-ave., about 12 o'clock. The next day, I understand, the page and afindavits were shown to some of the trustees.

The remainder of the day was taken up by the examination of the witness by Mr. Bangs regarding two or three tion of the witness by Mr. Bangs regarding two or three material admissions which Mr. Hutchings had made or the previous day, and Mr. Stickney's re-cross-examination on these points. One of these admissions was to the effect that the only statue where he could specify that repair of anything more than ordinary breakage occurred under General di Cesnola's eyes was on that of Horonics No. 19. Mr. Banga asked whether the withess would be able to recognize in the Central Park collection other statues besides the ones where of he remembered the numbers, which Mr. Gehler repaired. Mr. Stickney objected that has was not redirect examination, and read portions of the witness's testimony where it would seem, according to the counsel, that the whole collection was in his mind, and that he asserted clearly that this was the only statue in regard to wasth he could make the statement just quoted. Mr. Hutchings interrupted the counsel frequently in reading the testimony and, standing up at one juncture, was about to open an address to the Court with the approved formula of "If your Honor please," when he was interrupted. Mr. Hutchings also desired to retract the statement that there was a great and discornible difference between the stone and pleaster at the conclusion of Mr. Gehler's labors, and desired to say that no difference was visible. the previous day, and Mr. Stickney's re-cross-examination

MADAME SEXE'S PROMISSORY NOTES.

Ovide Dupré, as referee, on the order of Ovide Dupre, as referee, on the order of Judge Nehrbas of the City Court, is taking testimony in the suit of Madame Marie Sexe against William B. Edgelow, a designer in the employ of Horier Brothers, arraiting dealers, to recover money on three promissory notes, each for $150. L. Mathot, the counsel for the plaintiff, and Jesterday that Marianic Sexe became acquainted with the defendant several years ago and lived with thin until last November when they separated. The defendant, the lawyer said, gave Madame Sexe about $700 and signed three promissory notes for $150 each, on condition that she should go to France and not return to this country. One of the notes became due soon after Madame Sexe's arrival in France, and it went to protest She returned to this country and began suit. The defendant, a married man, denies all improper relations with the plaintiff, asserts that he can explain the matter of the notes satisfactorily, and alleges that Madam for has forfeited her claims by returning to this country, Madame Sexe is staying at a hotel in Wooster-st., near Bleecker.

CLOSING THE KILBOURN-THOMPSON CASE. WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 .- In the suit of Halles Mastination, Nov. 2.—In the suit of Halles Kilbourn ag diest ex-Sergeant-at-Arms Thompson to-day. Mr. Freund, the former enterer of the House, said the reason he supplied so large an amount of food was that Mr. Kilbourn had company. The witness said that Representative Williams, chairman of the Committee on Accounts, gave him an order for $63 for furnishing food. to Mr. Kilbourn and his guard while Mr. Kilbo confined. Mr. Ohnstead paid the rest of the bill. " Sixty-three deliars was Mr. Williams's notion of what should be paid I' asked Mr. Totten. " Yes," said the witness.

"Mr. Williams was one of Indiana's distinguished sons," observed Mr. Corkhill, glancing at Senator

"So is Judge Wilson there," retorted the Senator

"Bo is Judge Wilson there," retorted the Senator.
"They are lying all around here."
The witness said he stopped furnishing the meals when Mr. Glover, of Missouri, asked him for his bill.
The evidence was then closed, after brief examination of other witnesses. Judge Cox said that he understood that it was agreed that the plaintiff was entitled to recover actual damages received in his business and in his health. If his business was broken up he is entitled to recover what actually was destroyed. The principal question in the case was whether be was entitled to something more than compensatory damages. If the injury inflicted was inflicted with malice or wanton disregard of the rights of the person injured, then the jury could give exemplary damages. If there was no malice or unnecessary harshness, then it was a case simply for compensatory damagos.

Heneter Voerbeer will argue the case, on Mondox.

CENSURING THE BOARD OF EXCISE.

LIQUOR DEALERS WHO ARE CRIMINALS. A PLAIN PRESENTMENT BY THE GRAND JURY-NAMES

AND PLACES SPECIFIED. Recorder Smyth discharged the October Grand Jury yesterday after complimenting them on the method in which they had discharged their daties.
Before they were discharged the foreman, Francis H. Amidon, handed up a presentment relating to the affairs of the Excise Board. The presentment read in part as follows:

II. Amidon, handed up a presentment relating to the Excise Board. The presentment read in part as follows:

In the course of its investigation during the term, it has come to the knowledge of the Grand Jury that there are in the city of New-York a large immber of fliquor sulcons and public houses which are well known to be the resort of theires, prostitutes and criminals of every class, and that such salcons and public houses are run and operated by people who are well-known oriminals, and in many instances ex-convicts, and among others our attention has been called to the following places:

Abe Coakley, proprietor of a salson known as the "Fountain House," situated at South Fifth-ave, and Canal-st. It is frequented by the worst kind of thieves. Thomas Draper, alias "Shang," No. 466 sixth-ave, George Leavy, No. 586 Eighth-ave,

Edward Matthews, No. 481 Second-ave,
Robert Nelson, Seventh-ave, and Thirtieth-st.
John Nugent (now in prison) No. 109 West Houston-st.
Joseph O'Donnell, No. 591 Sixth-ave,
"Dad" Williams, Gansevoort and Hudson sta.
Joseph Wolling, No. 126 West Houston-st.
— salcon at 578 Eighth-ave, kept by a German, name unknown; safe-blowers make their headquarters there, and it is frequented by such men as Hart, Burna, Lawrence McDonald, No. 124 Bleecker-st., convict.
George A. Greene, south side Thirteenth-st., between Third and Fourth aves.

The existence of these places, kept for the purposes to which they are devoted, and by the men of the reputed character of the proprietors of them, is a soundal upon the community of the city of New-York of the worst description. Sufficient information has come to the knowledge of the Grand Jury to enable it to say that the Board of Exotes is consurable for permitting this state of things to exist.

PREPARING FOR EVACUATION DAY.

The Joint Committee on Evacuation Day held a meeting resterday afternoon in the president's room of the Board of Health at Police Headquarters. General Shaler, Mr. Austiu, Colonel Varnum, C. S. Smith, Colonel Winchester and General Cochrane were present. A letter was received asking if the escorts of the Governors of the thirteen original States would be allowed place in the thirteen original States would be allowed place in the marching column, and the committee decided to allow them that privilege. General Cochrane and Colonel Varnum were appointed a committee to invite the various state organizations of the Society of the Cinchmat to attend the celebration. Colonel Winchester was requested to select suitable headquarters for the reception of the citizen guests of the city, and also to consider the advisability of obtaining popular subscriptions to pay the expenses of a reception to be hold at night at the 7th Regiment Armory, where the citizens and their guests could assemble without the formality of full dross.

WINSHIP'S RECORD SAID TO BE FALSE.

It was stated yesterday by a prominent owner of trotting-horses in this city that he had it on the best anthority that the record of Winship of 2:104 with a running-mate was a false one, the real time made being 2:1119. Murphy, who was in the city yesterday morning, said that with a good running mate he could drive a well-actioned trotter in 2:04, or even less.

Robert Bonner said: "These performances of horses to a running-mate really prove nothing as to their actual speed. Their time aimply depends on the speed of the running-mate. They are so hitened up by bands that they are carried along in spite of themselves, and if they were put to a locomotive in the same way they could keep up with it. By helding of bohind a wagon, you can easily keep up with a three-minute horse. Try it alone, and you will be nowhere."

CONTESTS FOR ALDERMEN.

THE COUNTY DEMOCRACY'S ONLY HOPE.

PROSPECTS IN THE VARIOUS DISTRICTS-TWENTY LIQUOR-SELLERS IN THE FIELD. The most important feature of the election this year, to the local Democratic organizations, is the control of the next Board of Aldermen. It will have the power to confirm the successors to the Commissioner of Public Works, the Controller, the Corporation Counsel and some other department heads. If Commissioner Thompson can secure a majority of the Board, he can temporarily prevent any other person from succeeding him in his present office; hence he is using all the power of the County Democracy to elect Aldermen. "One Alderman is worth ten Assemblymen," said a member of gations are concerned. In the present Board there are seven Republicans, six County Democrats, and eleven Tammany Democrats, From the present outlook the Republicans will elect nine

From the present outlook the Republicans will elect nine and probably eleven members of the next Board, and the remaining districts will be about evenly divided between the two Demogratic organizations. In three districts— the VIIth, VIIIth and XIth, all of which are Republican districts—the Democrats are united. In each of the remaining districts there are two, three and in some cases more Democratic candidates running. Twenty of the Democratic candidates are liquor-sellers. The 1st District is Democratic, no Republican having been renominated. Alderman Foley, a liquor-seller, has been renominated by Tammany. The County Democracy and Irving Hall have named Thomas Cleary, jani

the Equitable Building. The chances favor the County Democracy candidate. In the Hd District Alderman W. P. Kirk, a liquor dealer, against whom serious charges were made while a school trustee, has been renominated. Thomas P. Walsh for many years keeper of a gambling house, is the caudi date of the County Democracy. Kirk will probably win. John H. Coster, a veteran of the late war and a brother of the pension agent in this city, is the Republican candidate in the Hid District. His chances of success are good. Patrick N. Oakley, a liquor dealer, is the Tammany candidate, while John O'Nell is Hubert O. Thomp-

In the IVth District ex-Alderman " Tommy " Sheils, an ignorant demagogue, the proprietor of several liquor stores, and the nominee of the "Jeffersonian Democrats, will probably be elected. Edward T. Fitzpatrick, a wellknown Tammany officeholder, and Charles Reilly, equally well known on the side of the County Democracy, are candidate of the Republicans in the Vth District. Alderman Henry W. Jachno has been renominated by the
